Kanawa collection to be shared between Haliburton and Port Hope

The County of Haliburton will share the Kanawa International Canoe collection with the city of Port Hope, according to a plan worked out by the museum's board of directors. The plan to split the world class collection of canoes and native boats was announced by the museum's board of directors on Monday.

According to the president of the board,

Robert Dunn of Toronto, a portion of the collection will be housed in a 70,000 square foot building in Port Hope, 100 kilometres east of Toronto, with the remainder going to a structure to be constructed in Glebe Park in Haliburton Village.

Dunn said the decision to split the collection between the two locations was made to give it a regional base in Central Ontario and to help boost the tourism potential of the two locations. Port Hope and Haliburton were two of six centres in the province seeking to have the collection located in their community.

The local bid was co-ordinated by the Haliburton County Historical Society. The Glebe Park location was chosen after submissions were received for various sites throughout the county.

President of the Hali-burton County Historical Society, Frank Wallace, said the society and board of directors of the museum, while not having reached any firm commitments on the facility, have agreed with the concept of the museum on Head Lake. Wallace said he feels his organization has support from throughout the county for the idea of the museum and is willing to hammer out the details with the museum's board.

The society made a formal submission for the museum complex when bids were being called for, however, since the collection will be split, many of the original proposals no longer applied.

The offer of property in Glebe Park, as part of existing museum property, is still being offered for the project by the municipality of Dysart.

In Port Hope, the museum will be developed in an old mill adjacent to the Ganaraska River. The building is of historical significance and will require renovations before the exhibits can be accommodated.

According to Dunn, the Haliburton facility, which will follow the proposal as put forth by the local Historical Society, will be more than a museum. "The facility will be more than just a place for looking at canoes," he commented. "It will be an active place with many canoe-related activities." The location, on the shores of Head Lake, will provide the access to water needed for some of the activities associated with the facility.

The Haliburton museum will also provide facilities for study of canoes and canoe history. Dunn said a great deal of interest has been shown by various canoeing organizations across the country. He said the museum will become a focal point for those interested in the canoe.

The museum's board is also exploring academic links for the museum. "A permanent alliance is likely to be made with such regional institutions as Trent University in Peterborough and Sir Sandford Fleming College, the press release noted. It also pointed out that the Haliburton location would be closed to the existing northern campus of the college.

Instruction and courses in canoe building, paddle making and outdoor recreation associated with canoeing, are some of the activities which could be associated with the museum, Dunn suggested.

Dunn emphasized that both locations would have static displays, but that the emphasis at the Haliburton location would be on the historical aspect of canoes in Ontario and "...on the surviving, living canoe."

At the moment, the museum's board of directors are developing plans to get both facilities operational as soon as possible. He noted that the historical society is eager to begin work on the local facility this spring. He said the museum's board is aiming for a summer of 1986 opening for both locations. He stressed that it was the board's desire to see both Minden firemen Merv Mintz and Joe Dollo extinguish flames pouring from the engine compartment of an automobile on the Bobcaygeon Road. The owner of the 1979 Ford, Barry Marshall, was driving toward Minden around noon on December 31, when the fire broke out. The car was destroyed in the blaze.

Clubs prepare for Snowarama

The eleventh annual Timmy's Snowarama for Easter Seals Campaign got underway on Wednesday with a press conference and supper at the PineStone Inn and Country Club. The meeting was sponsored by Molson Ontario Breweries, Limited.

Attending the press conference were representatives of the Easter Seal Society, The Haliburton County Snowmobile Association and members of the Snowarama co-ordinating committees of the Haliburton and Minden Rotary Clubs. Susan MacLachy, Provincial Co-ordinator of the 1985 Snowarama told those in attendance that the ride organizers hope to raise $1 million toward the Society's 1985 budget of $11 million. She said that the winter event has raised $6 million for the Easter Seal Society since its inception in 1974.

In 1984 a total of $26,000 was raised by the Haliburton and Minden Rotary Clubs' Snowaramas.

The guest speaker of the evening, Dave Thom, Coordinator of Corporate Events of the Society said that the chief aim of the Society is to make it possible for disabled individuals to become integrated into the community.

He noted that 500 million or one out of every ten people in the world are disabled and that the United Nations has launched a world program of action to encourage the integration of disabled persons into the work force.

He added that the MacDonald Commission formed by the federal government supports this objective but pointed out that less than 1% of the Society's funding is provided by the government. "A great percentage of the funding comes from what you are doing," he said.

"The Easter Seal Society represents a commitment," he said, "to over 6600 disabled children in the province."

He pointed out that since

Kinsmen prepare for carnival

Once again this year the Kinsmen Club of Minden is gearing up for its annual Winter Carnival. The dates for this year's even are January 25, 26 and 27.

In anticipation of the full weekend of activity, the local service club is seeking the support of all organizations, businesses and interested parties in making the parade one of the highlights of the carnival. The parade takes place Saturday at noon and marks the beginning of outdoor events at the arena.

The theme of this year's parade is 'Lumbertown

1985'. A spokesman for the club, Andy Poldas, said the theme should provide participants with ideas for use in floats and costumes. He added that the theme is not a limiting factor. "If a group or business has a particular idea they wish to use in their parade entry, they are encouraged to do so. We want as many participants as possible," he said.

Cash prizes will be awarded in two classes. Entries will be judged in commercial and non-commercial sections. The first place winner in each category will receive $100 cash. Second place winners will receive $50 while a third place prize of $25 will be awarded.

Anyone with questions about the parade should contact Andy Poldas at 286-2952.

Monk Funeral Home joins order

Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home, in Minden, has been accepted for membership in the International Order of the Golden Rule.

The Order is comprised of funeral directors from all over the world who are dedicated to keeping in touch with the attitudes of the public. This is accomplished through regularly scheduled seminars and educational meetings at which attendance is required by all members.

Only a limited number of funeral homes are selected for membership. For this reason, the Order carefully screens all prospects. The decision is based on recommendations made by families the firm has served and by other professionals in the area.

Dale L. Rollings, Executive Director of the association, stated, "To obtain membership in OGR, all prospects must provide their community with quality funeral service and merchandise at reasonable prices. As a result of the positive response we've received from the Minden area, Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home, has proven its worthiness to be counted among our members."

The next phase

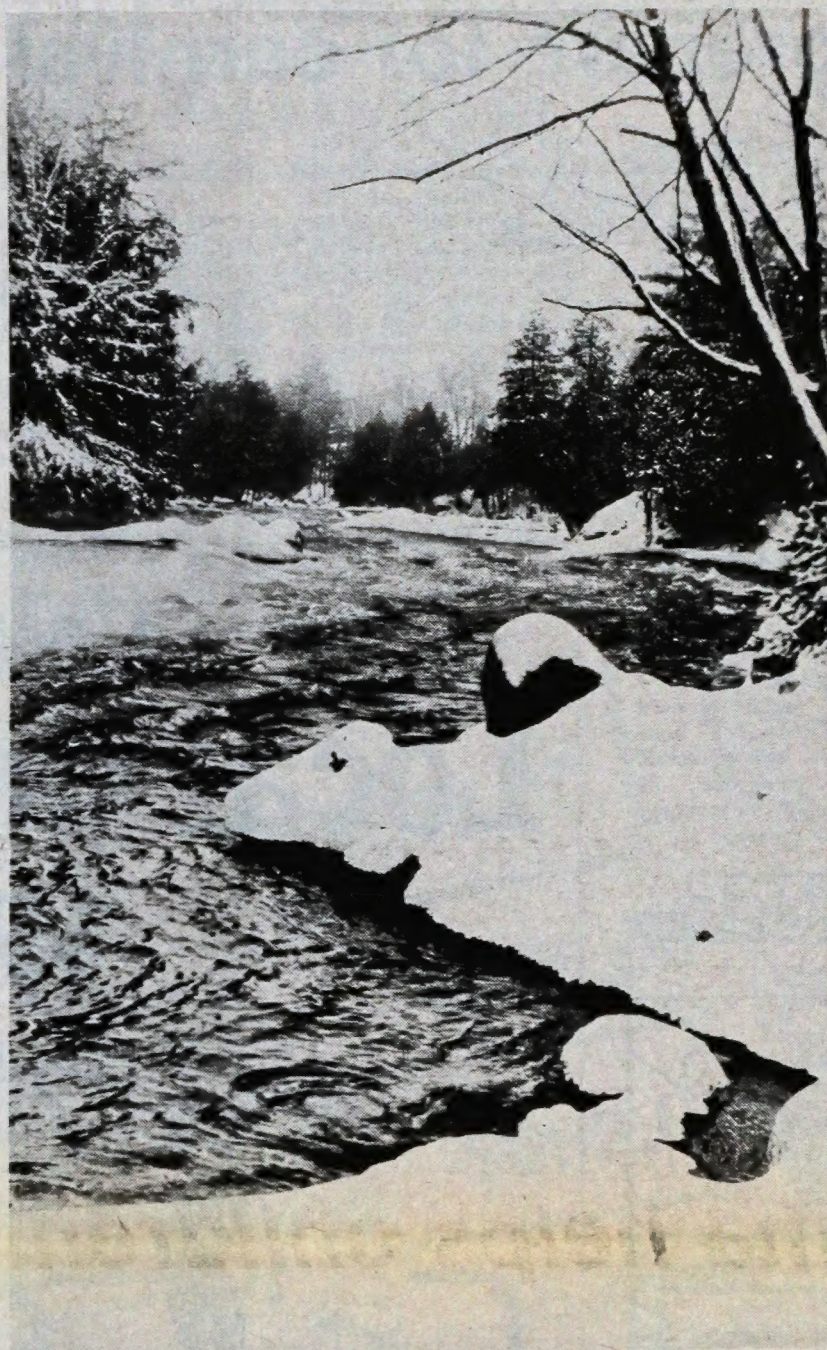

As promising as the announcement from the Kanawa Canoe Museum board of directors is for Haliburton County, there are many hurdles to clear before the facility finally opens. The board has announced its preference for two locations for the world class collection, one in Glebe Park, on Head Lake, the other in Port Hope. The decision came after submissions from six communities were considered.

The fact the collection is being split is somewhat disheartening, especially since it has grown and developed in this county. In reality, however, it is unlikely the board would have chosen a county location if only one site was selected. The collection is also of the size now that it would be a difficult task to find a suitable location to adequately house the exhibits properly.

What lies ahead for the Haliburton County Historical Society and supporting municipalities is to come to a suitable agreement with the board for the financing, construction, management and promotion of the local facility. While all parties have agreed in principle to the museum project, those details remain to be ironed out.

There is little doubt the museum has a strong core of supporters in the Highlands. Over the years, individuals and groups have struggled to keep the collection here and they appear prepared now to provide the effort needed to see their dream through to the end.

We wish them luck as the next, and perhaps most difficult, phase of creating a proper home for the collection gets underway.

A province blessed

- by John Eakins, M.P.P. -

Being early in the New Year, I feel it would be appropriate to provide some excerpts from Liberal Leader David Peterson's wrap-up speech on the last day of the session:

"I look at my province, which is blessed in so many ways ... is unique, perhaps, in our country and even in the world in having a disproportionate share of resources, in being richer and larger ... having a budget bigger than most countries in the world ... have we adequately prepared for our future and have we built the capital-intellectual, spiritual, physical - to build a bigger and better future.

"If one judges the last 13 years in that context, the answer is probably no. When you go into any of the policy areas - jobs, education, health, the environment - and ask yourself whether we have advanced significantly, whether we know, as a jurisdiction and as a body politic, where we are going and how we are going to get there, I would say that the answers are probably as unclear now as they were then.

"My greatest concern has been for the young people of this province, for their prospects in the future and their ability to cope with the complexities and uncertainties of a rapidly changing technological world. The skills that will be required to compete, even to survive, will be dramatically different from what they are today. One of the things that sustains great societies, even in times of difficulty, is hope. My problem is that I see too many people today without hope."

David Peterson spoke of the many young people who call upon him for help in their desperate search for a job ... an experience shared by every Member.

"On the other hand, I see these thousands of jobs going wanting according to the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission and the Canadian Federation of Independent Business, etc.

"I see that mismatch, the concomitant despair, and young people on welfare. We are robbing them, cheating them and sowing the seeds of our own destruction as a society in robbing them of that one essential ingredient - hope.

"We are dedicated to making an educational system that is relevant ... that prepares our young people for work in a changing world. We have put forward on many occasions our programs and our ideas ... I can say that is our priority."

He spoke of the ageing population ... the response necessary from the health care system ... the shortage of nursing home, chronic care and active care beds.

"We need creative new responses ... non-institutional and preventive ... to break this vicious cycle of institutionalization.

"I look at the problems of Ontario Hydro with respect to its environmental commitments ... the Like settlers in a new land, they're the hardest of individualists. Each with its own, rugged personality. They seem to relish challenge. Quick to recognize - and seize - any opportunity, they engender hatred. Yet, despised or venerated, they command respect and grudging admiration.

Starlings are Eurasian birds, introduced to North America in the 1890's. Back then, a number of misguided, though well-intentioned, individuals imported a variety of European birds for release. Some were caged-bird fanciers. One, I'm told, had decided for some reason to introduce all of the birds mentioned in Shakespeare's works to the 'new' land. Along with the now-ubiquitous house sparrow, a few lowly starlings arrived, were released, bred beyond belief, and promptly colonized almost all of North America - some would say more successfully than man.

Why the success?

The starling is, first and foremost, a fantastic opportunist. It is both intelligent and adaptive. Starlings can eat almost anything - insects, some seeds, fruit, carrion, bits of food material from garbage, french fries, bread bits, and even lumps of raw fat.

The starling is also an opportunist when it comes to nesting. It will nest in any cavity - old woodpecker holes, bird boxes, any hole anywhere in houses or other buildings, the holes in concrete telephone poles - anywhere! Starlings can outcompete almost any bird for nesting holes, sometimes by setting up breeding territory long before migrants return and sometimes by driving them off. If the entrance hole is too small, they simply set to work, woodpecker-fashion, enlarging the opening. Moreover, starlings tolerate filthy or unpleasant settings, coming inside warehouses or warming themselves in furnace updrafts at chimney edges.

In addition to all of this, starlings have a short incubation period - 11 to 14 days in contrast to most birds' 3 to 4 weeks - and rapid development of the young. As a result, starlings can bring off a new brood of 4 to 6 young - in southern Ontario every month of the year. That's an astonishing 40 - 70 young per year.

Fortunately, this colonizer's diet is for the most part beneficial, comprising large quantities of invertebrates and all manner of insects. In a few instances, starlings recognize the opportunities which orchards provide, multilating soft-fruit like cherries and peaches. Most

Representatives enjoy HCSA trails

Over fifty snowmobilers took part in an invitational ride on Saturday, January 5, hosted by Prentice-Berry Limited and Bombardier Inc., of Quebec.

The ride was organized to provide the townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden, Dysart et al, Lutterworth and Stanhope with an opportunity to see the results of their combined efforts to successfully seek Wintario funding to purchase maintenance and trail grooming equipment for the network of trails established by the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association.

A $91,306 Wintario grant was received in November and was used toward the purchase of four BR100 twin-tracked groomers, six long track snowmobiles and four all-terrain vehicles. Prentice-Berry Limited of Minden provided the six snowmobiles and four ATC's at their cost, including a discount from Bombardier.

Taking part in the ride Saturday were representatives of the four township councils, the Minden and Haliburton Rotary and Kinsmen clubs, members of the executive of the HCSA, the Ontario Trail Builders Riders taking part in an invitational rally return homeward along the Anson Mountain trail Saturday. Over fifty snowmobilers took part in the ride which was organized to celebrate the recent acquisition of snow grooming equipment to be used on the HCSA trail network.

Alliance and Bombardier Inc. Twenty-three snowmobiles were supplied by Bombardier who also provided the riders with snowmobile suits and helmets.

Prentice-Berry provided an additional seven machines for the snowmobilers. The large group of riders departed from the Minden Curling Club Saturday morning and travelled west for an hour on the "Anson Mountain Trail" established by the HCSA.

The group rendezvoused at the base of Anson Mountain then retraced their route to Minden.

Following the invigorating ride, a lunch was served to the participants at the Curling Club.

As well as being able to get a first-hand view of the HCSA trails, the participants were able to examine the recently purchased equipment that was assembled near the Curling Club in preparation for a winter of trail grooming.

1922, when representatives of 10 service clubs met in Windsor to initiate a service program to aid disabled children, over 25,000 youngsters have benefitted and at the present time 237 service groups are associated with the Easter Seals Society.

The Society carries out a variety of activities, sponsoring annual diagnostic and consultant clinics, teaching clinics, Track Three, a skiing program for disabled children, the Augmentative Communication Service, owns and operates five summer camps for disabled children and operates rehabilitation centres for children and adults. The society also provides support services and conducts pre-school programs.

As part of the Society's commitment to the future Thom noted that the Society has for many years sponsored research programs.

For example, the Conn Smythe Research Foundation has received more than $2 million from the Society since 1976 to conduct research into crippling disorders, preventive measures and treatment techniques. "The research is exciting but very expensive," Thom said, but pointed out that the use of small computers and other electronic aids have enabled many disabled children to become more self sufficient and independent.

The results of this research "allows those individuals to become part of the community," he said, adding that the acceptance by the community of people who are disabled was of fundamental importance.

Joan Moyer, one of 37 district Nurses affiliated with the Easter Seal Society was also in attendance at the press conference. Moyer works with ten children and their families in Haliburton County and assists another 100 children in the neighbouring counties.

The district nurse visits the homes of disabled children, offering advice on how to improve the home environment to assist the children and providing information on agencies that offer services for disabled children.

She commended the Rotary Clubs for their fund raising efforts, noting "Service clubs have helped many children with a lot of potential, but who needed help."

Date set

The Snowaramas of the Minden and Haliburton Rotary Clubs will both take place on Saturday, January 26.

Kim Emmerson, the Co-ordinator of the Haliburton Rotary Club announced that the event will once again take place in the Haliburton Forest and Wild Life preserve.

Riders will depart from the starting point between 8:30 and 9:30 Saturday morning, complete one loop before noon, pause for a lunch, then complete a second loop in the afternoon. The entire 100 km course will be over dry land.

Gasoline and oil will be supplied free of charge by Imperial Oil through Giles Connelly Fuels.

Emmerson also announced that there will be a prize awarded to the driver who collects the most pledges.

Steve Berry, the Rotary Club's Co-ordinator of the Minden Snowarama said that this year's ride has been scheduled to coincide with the annual Kinsmen Winter Carnival.

Drivers will depart from the Minden Arena between 7 a.m. and 9 p.m. Saturday. Approximately 25 kilometres have been added to last year's route for a total of 100 km.

Drivers will proceed from Minden to the abandoned CNR railway line in Snowdon Township, follow the line toward Kinmount, swing west past Davis Lake to Moore Falls, then return north on the HCSA trails to Minden.

Upon their arrival in Minden, drivers will be given a voucher for a free meal at the Dixie Lee restaurant in Minden.

aurant in Minden.

Pledge forms are available at Prentice-Berry Limited, Moore Falls Marine, John Bath Esso, The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce office, the Toronto Dominion Bank in Minden and the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce in Minden.

of the legitimate criticism, however, relates to their willingness to go anywhere after food - warehouses and manufacturing areas, barns and grain cribs, etc. - and to their droppings in these areas.

Although starlings don't migrate, they do change habits in the winter. The opportunists tend to congregate especially in towns and cities, where we humans cover the landscape with an almost-endless supply of food and provide all manner of 'outdoor heaters'. On cold winter's evenings, starlings gather - sometimes by the dozen, sometimes by the tens of thousands - in warm, protected roosts. Sheltered trees will do. But the underside of water towers (kept warm by pumped water) and the underside of bridges and elevated expressways (where warm air and exhaust rise to the highest point) are favourites. The 'cheeping' makes a deafening racket long into the night and, again, as the birds disperse to feed, come dawn.

Starlings do not have the most melodious of calls. But the birds do have an intricate song, are adept vocalists, and frequently mimic other species. Most interesting, they each have a personality.

Colonial pirates they are. Self-sure. Cocky. And opportunistic. They've settled this country. And like them or hate them, they're here to stay.

sites operational as quickly as possible.

Dunn will be in Haliburton Thursday evening, at which time he will present the resolution as passed unanimously by his board recommending the establishment of the two sites. He will be speaking to members of the Dysart council, Historical Society and the public, and be willing to answer questions on the board's plans for the future. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the Dysart council chambers.

In an effort to generate as much interest in the project as possible, Dunn said he would shortly be embarking on a cross-Canada tour. Travelling with a number of the exhibits from the collection, he will be promoting the two new museum locations, raising the profiles of these areas and seeking financial support from those with an interest in canoeing. The tour will culminate at Expo '86 in Vancouver where he stated there were a number of exhibitors interested in displaying the items from the Kanawa collection.

The press release issued earlier this week said the museum board intends to rely heavily on private funding for the cost of the new installations, particularly, "...enthusiastic support from communities in which Kanawa is now to be located."

In an interview on Tuesday, the president of the board said the organization would certainly not turn down financial support from the federal and provincial governments if they offered it. He said that he expected the provincial authorities to show a greater interest in the project, especially with its increased emphasis on attracting tourism. The press release noted, "With tourism of growing importance with the welfare to such growing communities, officials in Port Hope and Haliburton are convinced that development of this world class museum will be a major boost to the region's appeal to the visitor industry."

Players swarm around the prone Bradford goalie while fighting for control of the puck during a game played between the Minden Juveniles and Bradford on Saturday. Minden won the game 7-3 to capture the consolation round of the annual Minden Juvenile tournament.

Powasson takes tourney

For the second year in a row the Powasson North Stars have captured top honours at the Minden Juvenile Tournament played on Saturday, January 5.

After blanking Bradford and Unionville in their first two games, Powasson skated to a convincing 5-1 victory over Fenelon Falls to win the Championship Trophy in the eight team competition. The Minden Juveniles captured the consolation round winning two of their three games.

Minden's only loss came at the hands of the team from Fenelon Falls, the only team to have defeated Minden in regular schedule this season. Fenelon Falls won the game by a score of 4-3.

Fenelon led the game from the early minutes of the opening period. They led 2-1 at the end of the first period, 4-2 at the end of the second and hung on for the 4-3 victory.

Scoring for Minden were Scot Hamilton, Lennie Johnston and Boomer Stamp.

Assists went to Jeff Howe with a pair, Barry Boice and Scot Hamilton.

In the second game the Minden Juveniles rebounded shutting out Woodville 8-0. Scot Hamilton led the way with three goals and an assist in his team's convincing win.

Jeff Howe also had a strong game, scoring twice and adding two assists.

Powasson North Stars captain Ted Hummel accepts the Dollo's IGA championship trophy from Greg Carpenter.

Shayne Yateman, Jason Stamp and Doug Schell rounded out the scoring with a goal apiece. Assists went to Barry Boice with three, Boomer Stamp, Daryl Ward, Doug Schell, Chris Laporte and Gord Wood.

Kevin Smith had a fine game in nets for Minden, registering one of the three shutouts in the tournament.

Minden continued their strong showing in the final game of the consolation round, defeating Bradford 7-3.

Minden held a 3-0 lead before Bradford scored half way through the second period, then added four more goals in the third. Doug Schell and Chris Laporte shared the honours as the top marksmen for Minden scoring two goals and an assist each.

Other point-getters were Lennie Johnston with a goal and an assist and Jeff Howe and Barry Boice with a goal apiece. Assists went to Boomer Stamp with a pair and Scot Hamilton and Gord Wood with singles.

Although Minden failed to capture the Championship, the team played a solid disciplined brand of hockey, averaging only five minor penalties per game. This was the third tournament the juveniles have participated in this season.

They took the championship in Woodville and were the consolation round winners in Gravenhurst, and this past weekend at home.

Hartwick, Rockcliffe big winners

Minden Men's Recreational Hockey action resumed on Monday with two games at the Minden arena.

Both contests were shoot-outs as Hartwick Construction defeated Home Hardware 14 - 5 and the Rockcliffe Foamblowers clobbered Hall's Insurance 11 - 1.

In the first game Hartwick held a slim 3-2 lead after the first period, then took a giant leap forward, scoring six goals in the second period. Hartwick added 5 more goals before the end of the game to register the convincing 14 - 5 victory.

Rick Hartwick led the way for the winners, scoring 5 goals and adding 2 assists.

Kevin Hamilton, with a hat trick and two assists and Leigh Bull, with a hat trick and an assist, also played a big part in the team's win. Other point getters were Greig Carpentier with 2 goals and an assist, Murray Clark a goal and 2 assists, Fraser Rogers 4 assists, Neil Hutchinson 2 assists, Rick Mansfield one assist and Rick Hauk one assist.

comment of Bill Wilder who said Ontario Hydro has the capacity to bankrupt this province. I worry again about the future ... the kind of society in which our children will live.

"The next Premier is going to have to deal with those issues and is going to squeeze the situation here to protect the credit rating of Ontario Hydro in order to keep on building at a pace we do not need in this province. Social services are suffering as a direct result of Darlington. One can draw that connection when we are spending $11 billion on a hydro plant that is not needed.

"There are issues that can be handled with leaders of goodwill that have nothing to do with partisan issues. We know certain of the issues are infinitely more complicated than others. We know racial issues, language issues and religious issues have the capacity to divide people, whereas with proper leadership we can make progress together.

"It has been a long and tough session for us in many ways. We have all worked hard. Even though there are many things that divide us, there are more things that unite us as politicians. The things that brought us into politics - wanting to give, wanting to share and build a better world - are a far greater unifying factor than the things that divide us in partisan debate."

goal and two assists, Jim Keetch with a goal and an assist and Carl Northey with a goal rounded out the scoring for Home.

Assists went to Joe Mitchell with two and Gerry Poirier with a single.

Rockcliffe win

In the second game played on Monday night the top two teams in the league faced off.

The Blowers dominated the game from the opening faceoff. 'Blower's goalie

Doug Pearson played another strong game allowing only one goal at the beginning of the third period.

The 11 - 1 victory was the tenth win for the 'Blowers in as many games and reaffirmed their hold on first place in the standings.

Sid McKeigan added 5 goals to his season's total in the win.

Other goal scorers were Andy Campbell with 2 goals and a pair of assists, Jim McKelvey a goal and 4 assists, Wayne Johnston a goal and an assist, Dave Hartwick and Dan Brohm a goal and an assist each.

Assists went to Charlie Berube with three, and singles to Dave Lee, Dave Pettes and Ted Vasey.

On Thursday, January 10, Vasey's takes on The Times at 9 p.m.

On Monday, January 14, Hartwick meets Rockcliffe at 7 p.m. followed by the game between Hall's and Vasey's.

There is no admission charge to the games.

International Youth Year

The focus will be on Ontario's 1.5 million young people from 15 to 24 years of age as Ontario participates this year, International Youth Year. Canada is one of 113 countries marking IYY. The year was designated by the United Nations.

The Secretariat for Social Development, through its International Youth Year Co-ordination Unit, is leading Ontario's participation.

"I believe that the dreams of the young are the touchstones of our changing society," said the Honourable Gordon H. Dean, Provincial Secretary for Social Development and M.P.P. for Wentworth. "The motivation, energy, and achievements of Ontario's youth make them one of this province's greatest resources," said Mr. Dean.

The objective of Ontario's International Youth Year campaign is to promote positive images of youth in the eyes of society as well as in the eyes of young people themselves. Focussing on the theme, "Visions of the Future", Ontario's celebration will highlight young people's valued contributions to the community.

Municipalities, community groups, educational institutions, associations, government ministries and businesses will be encouraged to mark International Youth Year with special events.

"This year affords adults the opportunity to join with young people in a celebration of Ontario's greatest asset, our youth," Mr. Dean said.

Wallet returned by 6 year old

A wallet, containing $114 was returned intact after it was lost by a Minden visitor.

The unidentified owner of the wallet had been helping to push a vehicle out of the snow when the wallet apparently slipped from his pocket.

Six year old Paul Michael Huffman of Wilberforce found the wallet and turned it in to the OPP station. Using a local phone number found in the wallet, police were able to locate the owner and return the missing property.

Neighbourhood Watch

Minden and area residents participating in the Neighbourhood Watch program are advised of two meetings coming up. On January 15 the zone and block captains are asked to attend a meeting at the Municipal office. It is scheduled to start at 7:00 p.m. A general meeting of the Neighbourhood Watch program has been scheduled for the following Tuesday, January 22, at the same time and location. Everyone is invited to attend.

Dear readers, as we have come to the end of '84 and enter into another, let us resolve each day to help some poor wanderer who have lost their way. To thank our Father up above, for all his blessings and gifts of love. This would be a better place for the life of the human race.

We have someone with us that we are glad to see. Marie Baker after undergoing surgery. We also thank Neil Walker, come to visit here at Hyland Crest. He is a fine young man and wish him all the best.

Not much activity around here this weekend, so many down with flu. Some really sick and feeling really blue.

In the chapel service Sunday night the Thompsons were there. Ruth to play the music, lead the singing, Harold read the lesson, also lead in prayer. Then Rev. Burgess took his messages from Matthew 6 chapter. Jesus said, "Take no thought of tomorrow, this you must not do. Seek you first the kingdom of God and his righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you."

Sorry to report Angus Coulter had the misfortune to fall, give his arm a twist and broke a bone in his left wrist.

Doris secured two video tapes for our viewing pleasure. One for Monday afternoon and one for New Year's day. Really enjoyable. Thank you Doris for always thinking of us in so many ways.

Congratulations to Doris Vaughan whose birthday was on New Year's day. How many years? I didn't hear her say.

Daryl Crowe came to play and sing for us New Year's night. Thank you for coming Daryl and doing the job just right.

I think we're going to have lots of birthday celebrations in this new year, by the way.

Edith Moon and Hughie McEachern had birthdays this second new year day. Carl Dugan was away for a few days, not much of a holiday, feeling not too spry while he was away.

Edna Cowan is off again with her daughter Marie Baker. She is always going whenever they will take her.

Well readers, we are getting more snow on this January day. I guess winter is really here to stay.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

where they push you through your paces, I wear a belt to hold my trousers up in case I bust my braces.

Thursday morning playing bucket ball, Carrie Jones won the highest score of all. Thursday afternoon was a real exciting time here at Hyland Crest. The Haliburton Legion ladies were the ones to come serve us the lunch and be our special guests. Our Super Sydney Brown thought he would play a joke, he said the girls are not coming. I guess they all have become broke. Then when they didn't come and the joke turned out to be true with our Super to help us serve us to see what he could do. Linda went to the kitchen because you see, our kitchen staff is always ready for emergency. They produced a lovely cake, lots of cookies, drinks hot and cold, with more things from their shelves, so we had a nice tea party all by ourselves.

We had our resident's council meeting to elect a president and vice president, secretary treasurer and directors for another two years. All were re-elected for another two years except Teddy Carr. He resigned because he couldn't hear.

The bingo callers Thursday night were Lewis and Jean Stevens. How the players made out? We didn't hear them say. Thank you callers for coming anyway.

Linda has been alone all week while Doris is on holiday. Linda knows how to make every move count and really make it pay.

Friday afternoon Grace Coburn and Fred Ballard, the first time of this new year, to lead us in a sing-along and bring us in a cheer.

A: Because it's farthest from the bark.

Q: Why does a dog turn around so many times before he sits down?

A: Because he's a watch dog and he's winding himself up.

Girl: Why do you call your dog "baseball"?

Margarete and Herbert Fischer of Kinmount were joined by friends and family on December 31 to celebrate fifty years of marriage. The festivities were brought to a colourful conclusion with a fireworks display at the home of their daughter and son in law, Margot and Gino Ziorjen, in Minden.

50 golden years

December 31 marked a double celebration for Margarete and Herbert Fischer of Kinmount as the couple celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a dance at the Kinmount Legion, then rang in the New Year at the home of their daughter, Margot Ziorjen in Minden.

The Fischers came to Canada from their native Germany in 1958 and after living for ten years in Downsview, retired in Kinmount.

Relatives and friends from Toronto, Guelph, Orangeville, Kinmount and Minden, gathered at the Legion Hall on Monday to celebrate the couple's fifty years of marriage.

The Fischers received congratulations from the Governor General of Canada, Madame Jeanne Sauve, Prime Minister Brian Mulroney, Ontario Premier William Davis, Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins and scores of friends and relatives from Canada and Europe.

Also in attendance at the afternoon open house was Victoria-Haliburton M.P. Bill Scott, who offered his personal congratulations and best wishes.

After the afternoon celebration, a party of thirty-five attended a supper at the Fireside Restaurant then greeted the New Year with a fireworks display at the Ziorjen residence in Minden.

Did you know ... that there is a telephone referral service that will help you deal with Ottawa?

The Canada Service Bureau offers a telephone referral service to make the federal government more accessible to people, regardless of where they live in Ontario and will connect you with the proper department, agency or ministry at no charge.

If you live in the (705) or (807) area codes, call 1-800-461-1664. If you live anywhere else in Ontario, dial 1-800-268-7207. This service is offered in both English and French and operates weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Many people in our area find it necessary at times to contact the Income Security Programs Office in Peterborough or elsewhere if they have a problem or inquiry regarding pensions, etc. These offices do not provide a Zenith or toll-free number, therefore we can now call the Canada Service Bureau and have them connect us directly to the office that we wish to speak at no charge.

Please keep in mind that your County Information and Referral Centre is here to help people of all ages find solutions to problems regarding social, health, governmental and environmental subjects.
